² We believe we can achieve our volatility target by investing among a set of strategies with similar levels of volatility as our target. We have risk tools in place that help us measure our realized and expected volatility, which helps drive allocation decisions and meet our volatility objectives. Alternative investment strategies use a variety of complicated trading strategies. Not all strategies will be successful nor are such strategies suitable for all investors.

The Fiera Capital Diversified Alternatives Fund is distributed by SEI Investments Distribution Co. SEI Investments Distribution Co. is a wholly owned subsidiary of SEI Investments Company, which is not affiliated with the adviser or sub-advisers.

The MSCI World TR Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets. The HFRX Global Hedge Fund Index is designed to be representative of the overall composition of the hedge fund universe. It is comprised of all eligible hedge fund strategies; including but not limited to convertible arbitrage, distressed securities, equity hedge, equity market neutral, event driven, macro, merger arbitrage, and relative value arbitrage. The strategies are asset weighted based on the distribution of assets in the hedge fund industry. The indexes discussed herein are not subject to any of the fees or expenses to which the Fund would be subject. References to the indexes are for comparison or discussion purposes only and are not a projection, prediction or guarantee of performance. It should not be assumed that the Fund will invest in any specific securities that comprise any of the indexes. Indices are unmanaged and its returns do not reflect fees, expenses, or sales charges. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. The Fund invests in bonds. Bonds and bond funds are subject to interest rate risk and will decline in value as interest rates rise. The Fund uses investment techniques that are different from the risks ordinarily associated with equity investments and are considered complex trading strategies. Such techniques and strategies include the use of derivatives, short sales, leverage and investments in commodity-linked securities and foreign securities. Derivatives are often more volatile than other investments and may magnify the Fund’s gains or losses. With short sales, the Fund risks paying more for a security than it received from its sale. Short sale losses are potentially unlimited and the expenses involved with the shorting strategy may negatively impact the performance of the Fund. In addition to the normal risks associated with investing, international investments may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from social, economic, or political instability in other nations. Commodity linked securities can be more volatile and less liquid than the underlying commodities themselves and the use of leverage may accelerate the velocity of potential losses. These alternative investment strategies include risks in addition to those risks with direct investments in securities as described in the prospectus. Such strategies may not be suitable for all investors. The Fund uses a multi-manager structure. It is possible that the investment styles used by a Sub-Adviser in an asset class or investment strategy will not always be complementary to those used by others, which could adversely affect the performance of the Fund.
